App # 10/780,476. Filing Date 02/16/2004

Pursuant to your notice of 05/11/2004, on or about June 22, 2004, I called customer service and was referred to Ms. Stokes, and asked her to review the application of 2/16/2004, so as to know what parts needed to be resubmitted in expanded format. She pulled and reviewed the specification, claims and abstract and informed me only the claims and abstract needed to be reprinted, and specifically not the specification. I reprinted the claims and abstract and did so, relying on her actual visual examination of the application, and her oral advice that date.

Based on your notice of 7/13/2004, I am resubmitting this substitute specification at double space. I request, based on my reliance of the advice on June 22, 2004, that this be received NUNC PRO TUNC as of June 26, 2004, the date of my good faith response, and because it is nunc pro tunc, the extension fee is unnecessary as it is filed as of June 22, 2004. Nunc pro tunc means NOW for THEN and is used to correct clerical matters, such as this one.

Respectfully,
